EDEN HOTEL COLLECTION
Unique in character | Individual in style

There is something very special indeed about our beautiful portfolio of nine carefully chosen hotels.

Each one has been selected for the unique qualities it offers; the beautiful architecture, outstanding food, peaceful surroundings and the sense of total escape and relaxation we offer each and every guest who steps into our hotels.

Whilst each property in the collection has its own unique character and personality, all uphold the impeccable standards of service, quality and attention to detail for which Eden Hotel Collection is renowned.

Our guests return time and time again to stay with us and experience their own unique version of what Eden has to offer.

Our Journey to Eden

Celebrated IT entrepreneur Sir Peter Rigby, who was knighted for his contributions to information technology, says he has a distinct passion for luxury hotels. In 2001 he became the owner of award-winning hotel Mallory Court, Leamington Spa.

Creating a boutique collection of hotels has since become a passion. Nine hotels, spanning across five different counties, form the Eden Hotel Collection.

So what is Eden Hotel Collection's key to success? Group Managing Director, Mark Chambers says it is about quality, service and sustainability. Staff loyalty is paramount, he explains. Eden Hotel Collections top management team have dedicated over 90 years combined service to the company and have pooled 150 years industry experience - that is certainly something to be proud of. The group identifies further benchmarks for success as 'outstanding service', 'team spirit' and 'stunning locations'. They continue to give all of their staff the feeling of empowerment and ownership that is so important in creating a perfect working environment.

Of its many achievements, Mark Chambers says the group is most proud of customers' loyalty: He says: "We have a large proportion of regular guests who return to our hotels for the service and attention to detail that we offer them. This is something we are very proud of, and we boast some of the favourite places to dine for some very well-known people."

In addition to each hotel being unique, another crucial ingredient in the collection's secret recipe for success is, 'location, location, location.' Whether you want to escape, or be in the heart of the hustle and bustle, you will find your perfect break once you arrive at any of these fabulous hotels. And they each offer some original social season events, so get involved and find out before you book!

Mark Chambers concludes: "Anyone who has stayed or has had anything to do with the collection or its staff will know that this is a highly competitive organisation that strives to be the best. And it will continue to grow, which leaves you wondering where the next hotel will be."

Our Culture

Our Mission Statement

“Eden Hotel Collection does not operate as a big company, indeed it isn't, and the strength of our hotels is their individual nature and the care and attention which comes from a personal ownership and a group of highly capable, dedicated professionals who care about their product, service and performance of the business.”

We adhere to the following values...

Our Hotels

EHC continues to invest in its hotels through both remedial and planned capital expenditure maintenance programmes.

Our People

EHC believes that our people are our greatest asset. We endeavour to recruit the best people, coach and develop these individuals in order to improve competency, motivation and team spirit. We are firm believers in promoting from within and have many success stories.

The Experience

EHC strives for excellence across all facets of the business. We aim to deliver an individual, distinctive and memorable experience to all our guests with unsurpassed attention to detail in each of our unique properties, along with fine food and wines.

Our Ethos

Where possible we will use local trade suppliers in order to support the regeneration of the local community. With our food we adopt a 'fork to fork' policy of using seasonal, sustainable, local ingredients and produce.

Working with you...

We are always delighted to have the opportunity to introduce journalists to our beautiful collection of individual hotels.
